

GERMAN WORKMEN AT KRUPP PLANT CLASH WITH FRENCH TROOPS

German Workmen are Killed and Thirty Are Wounded—French Rush Armored Tanks
To Quell Riot—German Version
Trouble Not Available Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 31.—Clashes between French soldiers and German workmen at the Krupp plant here today resulted in the death of five or six of the Germans and the wounding of about thirty. According to the French version of the affair a lieutenant and eleven soldiers who were sent to the Krupp works for the purpose of requisitioning automobiles were set upon by a mob estimated to number between 2,000 and 3,000, which was called together by a factory siren.

The mob showered stones on the soldiers, the French while many of the workmen, armed with revolvers, shot. The soldiers returned the fire, shooting over the heads of the mob at first, but, when the workmen refused to disperse, finally aiming to kill.

When the skirmish was at its height an automobile bearing two French civilian engineers came along, and the mob of the workmen was shifted to them; they were badly beaten and severely wounded. The French assert that the watches, wallets, passports and identification papers of the engineers were stolen.

The automobile was smashed and the chauffeur took refuge among the little group of French soldiers, but not before he was struck with several missiles. The engineers were taken inside the Krupp plant and severely man-handled. One of them giving the name of Snowden and speaking English, came off much better than M. Sauveur, the other whose name and language are French.

The French military command in Essen informed of the rioting, sent armored cars and tanks to the scene and the appearance of these machines caused the workmen to retreat behind the walls. The tanks entered and rescued the engineers, then stood by while the lieutenant and his eleven men went on with the work of requisitioning as instructed. The French say all the cars ordered taken are now in their possession.

The retreat of the German workmen in the face of the French reinforcements was conducted in good order and they succeeded in carrying their dead and wounded into the main yard of the plant.

The French announced tonight that they are positive a premeditated and concerted effort was made to bring their soldiers and the German workmen into collision. They declare that those responsible for the outbreak were former members of the German security police who had been disarmed by the French.

The responsibility of the Krupp management they claim is also gravely involved thru the blowing of the siren alarm which signalled the workmen to assemble. Several penalties will be inflicted the nature of which has not yet been announced.

No German version of the affair was available tonight.

Says Eleven Killed.
LONDON, March 31.—A Reuters' dispatch from Berlin tonight says it is now ascertained that eleven persons were killed and about 25 wounded in the fighting today at Essen between French troops and employees of the Krupp works.

A dispatch to the Central News says the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, reports that two French were killed during the trouble.

HARDINGS ARE ON WAY NORTH FROM MONTH'S OUTING

President and Mrs.
Harding Much Improved by Trip

(By The Associated Press)
On Board President Harding's Special Train, March 31.—The special train carrying President Harding and his vacation party from St. Augustine to Augusta, Ga., reached Jacksonville at 8:35 o'clock tonight and left fifteen minutes later.

The presidential special will reach Augusta early tomorrow and the party will go to the Bonair Vanderbilt Hotel where they will stay during the visit. The president plans to attend Easter services in Augusta tomorrow morning.

Attorney General Daugherty changed his plans to leave St. Augustine for Asheville, N. C., in advance of the presidential party and traveled on the same train to Jacksonville. Just before reaching Jacksonville, President Harding went up to Attorney General Daugherty's car and spent some time with him.

Both Are Improved.
St. Augustine, Fla., March 31.—Rested and improved greatly in health, President and Mrs. Harding tonight brought their Florida vacation to an end departing by special train for Augusta, Ga., to spend another week before returning to Washington.

Those who saw the president and his wife stop from a train several days ago at Orlando and who also saw them board the train here tonight could not see plainly the benefits derived from a vacation spent in the warm Florida sunshine, away from the cares of Washington and without schedules or any firmly established routine.

The president has been bronzed by the Florida sun, and, in the words of a member of the party, "has improved 100 per cent."

Mrs. Harding has surprised her old friends by her improved condition.

Members of the party ascribe the benefits derived by the president and Mrs. Harding during the more than three weeks spent in Florida to the fact that their whole thought has been as they put it, "to play."

Candidate Does Not Want Support of Klan

(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 31.—William J. Veach, candidate for mayor in the municipal election at East St. Louis, Ill., next Tuesday and said by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch to have the support of the East St. Louis branch of the Ku Klux Klan for the mayoralty, tonight asserted in a statement that he did not "want the endorsement of that organization."

Veach, who is commissioner of finance and accounts in the present city administration in his statement said:

"I most emphatically state that I have never had and never will have any dealings of any kind with the Ku Klux Klan, or any of its committees or members. I do not want the endorsement of this organization and now positively and emphatically repudiate any such endorsement as well as the so-called 'invisible empire.'"

"Should any such endorsement be made it will not only be unauthorized and uncollected, but will be malicious trickery of the most contemptible kind done to injure me."

The Klan is said to be supporting three candidates for city commissioner in Tuesday's election at which a mayor and four commissioners will be chosen.

NEW RECORDS ARE SET BY AVIATORS AT MCCOOK FIELD

Far Eclipse Records Made
by French Aviators
This Week

(By The Associated Press)
DAYTON, O., March 31.—In a spectacular air derby, army aviators from McCook Field today set new world speed records for 500 and 1,000 kilometers distances, far eclipsing those made this week by French aviators at the Villa Savoye airfield.

Unofficial figures tonight showed that Lieutenant Alex Pearson completed 500 kilometers in one hour and 50 minutes 12 7-10 seconds, making approximately 169 miles an hour and that Lieutenant Harold Harris and Lieutenant Ralph Lockwood travelled 1,000 kilometers in four hours, 52 minutes 35.24 miles an hour.

Lieutenant Battelle of the French army was the holder of the 500 kilometer record with a time of 2 hours, 42 minutes, 51 3-5 seconds, and Lieutenant Carrier of the 1,000 kilometer distance, whose time was 8 hours 39 minutes, 40 2-5 seconds.

In addition to the 500 kilometer mark set by Pearson, Harris and Lockwood also are credited with exceeding the French record for that distance as are four other McCook Field aviators.

Eleven ships took the air shortly after 1 o'clock today in the effort to beat the French record. Seven were to try for the 500 kilometer mark and five for the 1,000.

Five of the planes finished the 500 kilometer distance and four of the others were forced down. Aviators who beat the French record for 500 kilometers and their time are:

Louis Meister, two hours 32 minutes 48.44 seconds, average speed of 122 miles an hour; Lieutenant Arthur Smith, two hours, 42 minutes 31.88 seconds, an average speed of 122 1/2 miles an hour; Lieutenant H. H. Mills, two hours 26 minutes, 26.69 seconds, average 119.2 miles an hour and Lieutenant J. S. Stromme, who went the distance in two hours 42 minutes, 35.48 seconds, speeding at 114.7 miles an hour.

The time of Harris and Lockwood for 500 kilometers was two hours, 26 minutes 3.9 seconds, a speed of 127 miles an hour.

The air circus was completed without a serious mishap.

SOME HOPE HELD OUT FOR EASTER

CHICAGO, March 31.—Some hope for the annual Easter parade tomorrow was to be found in the announcement tonight of Henry J. C. district meteorologist that slowly rising temperatures are to prevail tonight and tomorrow.

"The sky will be clear in the morning, the wind will not be strong and the temperature ought to be a bit above freezing," he predicted. "The coldest part of the day will come in the morning," he said. "It will then begin to warm up a bit and probably will go a few points above freezing early in the afternoon. That ought to feel pretty comfortable after the cold today."

Old King Tut Now
Rules the Fashions

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 31.—Mistress Fashion, describing another of her idiosyncratic courses escapes this Easter Tide from the recent Russian influence only to fall under the spell of the Egyptian pharaoh, Tutankhamun, whose rest recently was broken after an undisturbed sleep of more than 3,000 years. Mr. Fashion however, continues English.

New York's Easter parade—there are to be two of them—the usual, the famous one of Fifth avenue and the other on Coney Island's new board walk will come after the citizens have made their Easter devotion in their churches for which the usual elaborate programs have been arranged.

Despite all the Egyptian talk, the weather man predicted today that Northland Styles, that is to say, plenty of furs, would be strongly featured too. He forecast a clear but cold, sharp day, and warned that the breezes would be icy. In this connection an organization of calendar reformers issued a statement renewing an appeal for a mixed date for Easter held in April. The children of New York found Easter joy in the fact that eggs under a price war between chain grocery stores, dropped to 25 cents a dozen today.

SOVIETS HAVE NOT YET CARRIED OUT DEATH SENTENCE

Vicar General Butch-
kavitch Still Alive
Kurski Says

(By The Associated Press)
MOSCOW, March 31.—The soviet authorities have not yet carried out the death sentence against Vicar General Butchkavitch, commissar of justice Kurski declared this afternoon.

The announcement while clearing away rumors that the prelate already had been executed, gave no further official information as to what the final outcome of the case would be.

The soviet foreign office replying today to a note submitted by Robert M. Hodgson, British representative here, appealing for a stay of execution for Vicar General Butchkavitch says:

"Russia is an independent sovereign state and has the unalienable right of passing sentences in conformity with its own legislation on people breaking the laws of the country. Every effort from the outside to interfere with this right and protect spies and traitors to Russia is an unfriendly act and a renewal of the intervention which has been successfully repulsed by the Russian people."

The reply further refers to a telegram from the Irish Republican representative in France in which it was asserted that the Republicans also were asking clemency despite "the hypocritical intervention of Great Britain, which is responsible for the assassination of political prisoners in cold blood in Ireland."

The Russian reply concludes: "If similar facts which occurred under British rule in India and Egypt are taken into consideration, it is hardly possible to regard an appeal in the name of humanity and sacredness of life from the British government as very convincing."

Mr. Hodgson in his note said he was acting under the instructions of his government to make an earnest, final appeal for a stay of execution.

"I am to omit," he said, "that execution of the sentence cannot fail to produce throughout the civilized world a feeling of horror and indignation which the Russian government, even from the point of material interest and apart from other considerations can hardly wish to invite."

BULL SPREADS TERROR IN BALTIMORE STREETS

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., March 31.—Charging thru Saturday afternoon crowds, a bull ran wild in the heart of the shopping district this afternoon spreading terror among hundreds of women shoppers and pedestrians.

Many women ran screaming for shelter while men joined in the chase.

Several blocks away the animal was seized by the horns and thrown by a Negro.

One of the pursuers was George Penkowitz who ran out from a store hatless and coatless. Penkowitz seized the bull by the tail and held on for four blocks. The bull then threw Penkowitz against a curb and he lost his hold. The chase ended however with Penkowitz sitting on the bull's back.

DEFEAT SEARCH AND SEIZURE BILL IN IOWA

Des Moines, Iowa, March 31.—The search and seizure bill, drafted and passed by the Iowa house of representatives designed to prevent the keeping of any apparatus or materials for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor or materials for such use, was defeated in the Iowa senate this afternoon by a vote of 23 to 13.

A motion for a reconsideration was filed by Senator McIntosh, its sponsor.

RECEIVERSHIP OF M. K. & T. RAILROAD ENDED LAST NIGHT

Line Was Thrown Into Receivership in September, 1915—Since Then Many Improvements Have Been Made—C. E. Schaff, Receiver, is Head of Organization

(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 31.—The Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad tonight formally emerged from the receivership it was thrown into, September 27, 1915, and henceforth will be known under the re-organization name of Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad. The receivership ended at midnight.

The road has been standardized thoroly during the period of receivership, it was announced at the general offices here this afternoon.

Improvements to the roadway, buildings and equipment cost a total of $47,000,000 an included the purchase of 187 locomotives, 70 passenger cars, 5,000 freight cars, 550 units of work equipment such as ballast, fuel and oil cars; the laying of new heavy rails on 800 miles of principal tracks, and the relaying of branch lines with rail released from the main lines; the ballasting and the re-ballasting of 1,450 miles of tracks, and the replacement of 42,525 feet of wooden trestles as concrete and steel structures.

Large terminal and freight house improvements have been made it was said and the passenger facilities have been expanded to meet demands of the traveling public. Five hundred locomotives have been converted from coal to oil burners and at the close of the year the only coal burners in the entire system will be locomotives running between St. Louis and New Franklin, Missouri, a distance of less than two hundred miles.

The tractive power of the locomotives has been increased approximately 40 per cent it was added.

The improvements include a $3,000,000 terminal at Denison, Texas, and locomotive shops at Waco, which are under construction.

The new company will have total stock and bond issues of a par value of $196,800,000, and 1,000,000 shares of common stocks without par value.

The road was thrown into receivership by creditors, but the company concurred in it.

Receiver C. E. Schaff, who was president of the road for three years prior to the receivership is president of the reorganized road.

EVELYN LYONS STILL MAINTAINS INNOCENCE

(By The Associated Press)
ESCANABA, Mich., March 31.—Evelyn Lyons, who for a number of days started the medical world with a 114 degree fever hoax which, according to specialists, was made to order with a small hot water bottle, is still steadfastly maintaining her innocence.

Evelyn is so ill that she is confined to her home where she spends most of her time reading or doing light house work, it was learned today.

Daily she continues to receive many letters from medical men, students or just plain cranks and fanatics, who insist on giving her counsel or comment on the case.

SAY REPORTS OF FLOOD EXAGGERATED

(By The Associated Press)
ONAWA, Iowa, March 31.—The Onawa, Iowa, community club in commenting on newspaper reports covering the recent threatening flood situation occasioned by ice jams in the Missouri River in this vicinity has sent to numerous newspapers of the country the following communication:

"The flooding on top of the Missouri river bank were not in any danger of being flooded. This community club is prompted to this action by the fact that many non-residents land owners and loan companies have seen these false reports and have become so anxious as to the danger threatening their holdings that they have wired, phoned or written their friends, or representatives that they be notified at once to the danger affecting their lands."

WASHINGTON COAL MINERS WILL QUIT

(By The Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Wash., March 31.—Approximately 2,000 miners employed in unionized coal mines of Washington will quit work at midnight tonight as the result of failure of operators and union officials to agree on a wage scale.

It was announced at headquarters of district 10, U. M. W. A., here today.

At the headquarters of the coal operators association it was said the general public would not be affected by the controversy as large stocks of coal are on hand.

LEGISLATURE HAS LITTLE BUSINESS THE COMING WEEK

Session Scheduled to Last Only Day
and Half

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 31.—Next week's legislative session will be short—only a day and a half long—but it will be long enough for threatened clashes between the two parties to materialize.

The house will convene Wednesday morning and adjourn early Thursday afternoon.

It is doubtful, in view of elections in parts of the state Tuesday, if enough house members will be present Wednesday to constitute a quorum. The Democrats this week voted solidly to adjourn until April 9, and on the defeated threatened not to return at all the coming week.

All but three or four Republicans voted to return Wednesday but duties incident to the elections also may keep some of them away.

But it is largely immaterial whether a quorum will be present, so far as legislation in the house proper is concerned for there is none of pressing importance ready for consideration. The chief object of the Republicans in keeping the house in session was to report out of committee several appropriation measures and other important bills.

Chairman Castle of the judiciary committee has scheduled a meeting for next Wednesday evening to consider all constitutional amendment resolution pending in his committee. These have been offered by Representatives Rennie, Buda, Rausch, Morris, Thon, Chicago; Soderstrom, Streator; Arnold, Quincy and O'Grady, Chicago.

Various methods of preparing and submitting proposed amendments to the electors are provided.

In Representative Smejkal's appropriations committee several bills are awaiting disposal and since they are, as termed by Speaker Shanahan and Mr. Smejkal, the most important bills before the assembly, will be pushed thru as expeditiously as possible.

Should the Democrats be present at the coming week's session, more rumblings of this week's dissension may be heard. The minority members still are agitated over the Henneberry-McCabe elections contests, consideration of which was postponed by the elections committee until April 10.

The committee's chairman, R. E. Church, Evanston, had returned home last Wednesday evening when the Democrats threatened a filibuster unless ballot boxes in Downers Grove are returned and unless he is here next week, it is unlikely that the committee will reopen the matter. If both the Democrats and Mr. Church and his committeemen are present, action of some sort may be expected.

Mr. Henneberry, a former representative claims he is rightfully entitled to Representative McCabe's seat as a member from the 41st district.

A THOUGHT

Is there not an appointed time to man upon earth? Are not his days also like the days of an hireling?—Job, 7-1.

Life is rather a state of embargo—a preparation for life. A man is not completely born until he has passed thru death.—Franklin.

Some papers are asking why Attorney General Daugherty in announcing that President Harding will certainly be a candidate for re-election, did not say something about Vice President Coolidge. Along with the comment there goes the suggestion that in this next campaign probably a westerner will be selected as the running mate for the president.

Among names suggested is that of Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, former chief of the budget. Someone once imagined the vigorous and aggressive Mr. Dawes taking a position so thoroughly overshadowed by his chief.

Co-operative marketing measures are receiving support in several states with good prospects of becoming laws. It is possible that co-operative marketing will afford some of the relief to which the farmer is justly entitled, for it must be admitted that the grain grower is not at all in position to dictate the price at which his product must be sold.

However, those who propose co-operative marketing as the remedy for all farming ills should bear in mind that many a co-operative enterprise has failed signally in bringing to pass the anticipated results.

The fine co-operative spirit shown in the hotel campaign solicitation has been the occasion of frequent comment. Men have been heartily engaged in this work without the slightest thought of any individual gain. They do realize that the new hotel project is for the common good and that they will gain indirect benefit.

The spirit of service is dominant and that is the thing which is influencing busy Jacksonville men to leave their own private affairs for hours daily as they press upon "prospects" the advantage that will accrue to the city thru this hotel enterprise.

One point of vantage that the canvassers have is that they are all investors themselves. They have manifested their own willingness to make the enterprise possible by stock subscriptions, and in addition are making the fine contribution of time and service.

The complaint is made, says the National Republican, that the United States government spends more money for the care of hogs than for the care of children. This may be on the ground that possibly the mothers of children, and the states, counties, cities and localities in which they live, give more personal attention to the health, care and education of children than the mothers of hogs and hogs generally do to the welfare of infant hogs. Comparisons do not always compare.

HOW TO EARN THE HIGHEST POSSIBLE WAGE.

Any leader who urges the worker not to "kill the job" by doing a full day's work in reality doing his best to kill that job and every other job, to kill prosperity everywhere—except for the fellows who serve dispossession notices and the bankruptcy court lawyers and attendants.

This is the statement of B. C. Forbes in the magazine which bears his name.

The manufacturer or the merchant who does not give full value for the money he gets doesn't prosper for very long. In time he suffers for his sharp practices, for his shortsightedness.

So it is with workers, with individual workers and with workers as a whole.

The recipe for prosperity for workmen and for us all—we are all workers—is not less work but more work, not less spending but more saving, not higher prices but lower prices, not more extravagance but more economy, not riotous living but right living.

Who are the first workers to be let go?

The fellows who the boss knows to be the poorest producers, the worst strikers, the fellows who yield no profit to their employer.

It wouldn't matter how strong the workers were organized, it wouldn't matter if all workers in the land were organized into "one big union," if they didn't BARN high wages, they couldn't by hook or by crook or by any other means or method or device go on collecting more pay than they earned.

If they produced less goods than were formerly produced, they would not be able to produce as much or as many goods as before.

If there were less to divide, it stands to reason that all couldn't get as much as formerly, no matter how high the wage rate might be marked up in dollars. (Consider Russia).

RADIO NIGHTHAWK.

(NEA)

The Kansas City Nighthawks now have 35,000 members among radio fans all over the United States and Canada.

The Nighthawks broadcast a radio concert from Kansas City after midnight. Between jazz numbers of the Coon-Sanders orchestra the announcer reads telegrams from out-of-town radio bugs who are "listening in."

The reading of these telegrams makes the senders members of the Nighthawks. The ceremony is completed by the professor, in charge of the band ringing them up on a song.

This announcer in Kansas City has a better line of " patter" than any of the old-time minstrel show interlocutors. Chicago has a similar concert-broadcasting outfit—the Sun Dodgers.

There's something almost uncanny in sitting up late at night when concerts come in clearest because there are fewer stations sending and by the few slight dial changes shifting from one distant concert to another.

It's like pulling teeth, for a radio bug to shut off the juice and go to bed. For radio has a peculiar lure, unlike anything else. This lure is in the fact that radio eliminates distance and carries the listener hundreds of thousands of miles in a twinkling.

Radio beats the Magic Carpet in the Arabian Nights.

Recently we were "listening in" on a concert from Minneapolis. The usual telegrams were read, between musical selections from radio enthusiasts. Then came one from an Indiana woman. She wanted to get word to her brother, somewhere in the northern woods, that father was dead. We wonder whether the brother heard the announcer read the telegram, or whether some friend heard and passed the word along.

The incident had a dramatic

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

MERE PREJUDICE

By Berton Braley

THE guy who says, "See!" I don't mind;
Nor he who says, always, "Yuh know!"
But there is one type of mankind
Which causes my temper to glow—
And that's the gazabo, the bird or the bean,
Who's constantly saying, "You know what I mean?"

I'M wondering whether—you know what I mean?
This uncertain weather will stay on the scene?
I feel like a winner all peppy and keen,
I've just had my dinner—You know what I mean?"

WITH rising inflection he uses this phrase
And keeps on repeating it all of his days,
Till, though I'm a person well poised and serene,
I feel I must kill him—"You know what I mean?"

THAT girl is a pipkin—you know what I mean?"
She sets my heart skipkin, she sure is a queen!
The grass keeps on growing—its color is green,
The wind's always blowing—you know what I mean?"

SO sentence by sentence and time after time
And whether the subject be gay or sublime
This phrase he repeats without reason or rhyme,
This constant, "You know what I mean?"

THE guy who repeats "Understand?"
With every remark that he makes,
Is one that should promptly be canned;
But greatest of human mistakes
Is that pesky bozo or bimbo or bean
Who ends every sentence, "You know what I mean?"

touch that is seldom equaled on the stage or in the movies. And it is flashed thru the night air with all the unexpectedness that is characteristic of radio.

We hear the joy killers occasionally commenting about the great amount of time wasted by radio fans. They have the wrong slant.

The time devoted to listening is not wasted. The music that rushes in from far off is of secondary importance to the listener. His real interest is in the marvel of transmission. In this sense radio is awakening a scientific sense that will be indelible to people who want to keep up with the times from now on.

Sinclair Resident Ended Life With Carbolic Acid Last Night—Had Been in Poor Health for Several Years.

Announcement Made Saturday of Total Credited Each Team—Hotel Fund Passes $175,000 Mark—Monday Will Be Busy Canvassing Day with Reports at Supper Hour

A few new subscriptions for the new hotel were recorded yesterday although it was not the expectation that any reports would be made by the workers until Monday evening. The subscriptions made Saturday are sufficient to push the total above the $175,000 mark and the amount now needed to reach the $200,000 goal is $24,800.

As has been indicated, the workers are expected to be very active tomorrow and the hope is that reports from local and out of the city solicitation will swell the fund to the goal figure.

If all the money is not raised by Monday night the campaign of solicitation will continue with vigor. The executive committee realized in the beginning that the early thousands of stock subscriptions would be much easier to secure than the final ones would and the campaign has presented no disappointment.

The statement is not exactly true, for there has been some disappointment over the failure of some team members to devote the expected time to the canvassing work. However, these members have promised to put special "pep" into the Monday campaign work and fine results are anticipated from this enthusiasm.

Chairman Harrison King of the special campaign committee last night announced the subscriptions credited to the different teams in the organization. These stock subscriptions totaling $175,200, are credited to the teams as follows:

Team No.	Captain	Total
1	R. Y. Rowe	$23,000.00
11	E. A. Brennan	21,400.00
10	H. E. Wheeler	17,200.00
6	T. A. Chapin	14,400.00
8	J. W. Merrigan	13,600.00
3	J. C. Lukeman	13,400.00
5	Elmer Gray	10,700.00
12	G. J. Kopper	10,700.00
9	J. H. Dial	8,700.00
2	L. F. Randall	8,100.00
7	Lloyd S. Reid	5,700.00
4	Albert Metcalf	4,600.00
15	Harrison King	4,600.00
14	C. Y. Rowe	2,200.00
Individual subscriptions		16,900.00

Total $175,200.00
Every team captain and worker and other interested citizens are requested to meet at the supper at the chamber of commerce rooms at 6 o'clock Monday night, with the hope of pressing the campaign to its successful conclusion.

THE DECLINE OF RAILROAD MILEAGE

"The decision of the owners of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad that it would be more profitable for them to tear their railway up than to continue to own and operate it has attracted nationwide attention, but it is not an exceptional case," says the Railway Age. "There never was a year from the time the first rail was laid until 1915 that the mileage of railways in this country did not increase. There has never been a year since then that it has not decreased." Complete statistics for the year 1922 are not available, but the statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission showing the increase in railway mileage which occurred in the six years ending with 1915, and the decrease in mileage which occurred in the six years ending with 1921, afford opportunity for a study in contrasts and reflection upon the reason for them.

"The increases and decreases of mileage in these years were as follows:

Year	Miles
1910	5,908
1911	4,740
1912	3,301
1913	3,003
1914	2,511
1915	831

Total 6 years' increase... 20,294
Decrease... 214
1917... 411
1918... 96
1919... 377
1920... 307
1921... 801

Total 6 years' decrease... 2,206
"It will be noted that the statistics given for the six years ending 1921 are not decreases—in other words, represent the extent to which the mileage actually torn up exceeded the new mileage built. It will also be noted that the decline of the railroad mileage in the country has been going on at an accelerating rate.

the decline in 1921 being almost twice as great as in any previous year.

"To what is it due that the railway mileage of the country continued to increase until 1915, while since then it has actually been declining? There can be no question whatever in the mind of any intelligent and unprejudiced person as to the correct answer. The revolution in the railroad industry which these figures bespeak has been due to restrictive, hostile and stupid regulation. It will be noted that even as recently as 1910 the mileage increased almost 6,000 miles. In that year the Mann-Elkins Law empowering the Interstate Commerce Commission to prevent advances in railway rates was passed. In 1911 the Commission in the exercise of this new authority refused to authorize the first general advance in rates which the railways asked. In every year of the next four years the increase in total railroad mileage declined, until finally beginning in 1916 reductions of mileage exceeded increases and these reductions have been going on ever since. The reason why they have been going on, and the only reason, is that the railways have been so regulated that the net return earned by them has steadily declined. There were increases in it in the years 1916 and 1917 but these did not last long enough to have any appreciable effect upon railroad development.

"The Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad has 247 miles of line which serve a rich agricultural territory. The people of that territory have protested violently against its being torn up, but no railroad or any other business concern can continue to operate forever at a loss. Its patron could far better afford to pay it rates high enough to enable it to prosper than to have it torn up. But this rational and obvious method of keeping it in existence seems to be almost the only one that has not been suggested. The Missouri & North Arkansas railroad, which has 365 miles of line, recently has been struggling desperately to maintain its life in spite of the destructive attacks of striking employees and unremunerative rates. Likewise the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, which has 456 miles of line, recently has been threatening to give up the ghost, and numerous government doctors, federal and state, have been rushing in to give it oxygen, in disregard of the fact that what it needs to keep it permanently alive is not oxygen but food in the form of remunerative rates. There are many other railways in the country, some much larger than any of these, the results of whose operations show that it is only a matter of time until they will have to be torn up unless a different policy of government regulation is adopted.

"The political and economic doctors are offering many prescriptions to keep these railways alive. The most popular at the present time is the consolidation with the so-called 'strong' railways. The average return earned by all the railways of the United States on their valuation in 1921 was 3 1-3 per cent and in 1922, 4 1-4 per cent. Therefore, if all the railways in those years had been united into, say, 20 large systems of equal earning capacity the net return earned by each of these large systems would have been about 3.75 per cent. The principal result of the wholesale consolidation, as long as the railways are regulated as they have been for over ten years, would be to create many big systems none of which would be prosperous enough to much more than pay the interest on their bonds, instead of having some railways which are relatively prosperous and many others which are bankrupt or soon will be.

"The policy of government regulation we have had for ten years surely has been bad enough, since it has changed the railway system of this country from one that was prospering and developing into one the mileage of which is constantly declining with increasing rapidity. Political corn doctors such as Brookhart, LaFollette and Capper propose to solve the railroad problem by adopting a more restrictive and drastic policy of regulations. If men such as they continue to dominate our policy of regulation we shall soon reach the time when our railroad mileage will decline as rapidly as it formerly increased. It has now declined until it is back where it was in 1913, ten years ago, and if it declines at the accelerated speed that their policies would cause it to, this country, having in three-quarters of a century built up its great railway system, may succeed in the next three-quarters of a century in wiping it out entirely. This is the only country in the world except Russia where men who are trying to destroy the transportation system of the country are called 'progressives.'

PRODUCE MARKET REVIEW

A noticeable increase in the receipts of eggs was the outstanding feature of the week. There is a good demand for current use and Easter trade.

The market shows little change
from the closing price a week ago, but values are well sustained, and a feeling of confidence in the present quotations prevails.

The supply of live poultry on the eastern markets was ample and prices eased off a little at the week's end. This has been generally reflected in paying prices throughout the producing territories.

Not enough fresh dressed poultry is being received to take care of the demand. Storage stocks are being withdrawn to take care of the deficiency.

A larger supply of butter was available, and quotations on 96
score Standards on the Chicago market are lower than a week ago.

Much attention is being given to the problem of securing better cream. It is largely a marketing problem. More frequent deliveries—at least twice a week—at this season of the year, and scrupulous care of the cream separator and utensils, would bring about an immediate improvement in the quality of cream marketed.

Many creameries are beginning to inspect purchases, placing in
No. 2 grade, cream which is very sour or having off-flavors, and paying a lower price for such qualities.

Sweet, or only slightly sour cream, free from undesirable odors makes the best butter.

MAY CONDUCT AN OFFICIAL PROBE OF CONTROVERSY

Inspector General of Army to Investigate the Trouble

(By The Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 31.—Major General Eli A. Helmick, inspector general of the United States army in person, may conduct an official investigation of the controversy between Colonel Arthur L. Conger, commanding officer of the Twelfth Infantry and Captain Edwin H. Randle, also of the Twelfth Infantry out of which has grown a damage suit for $100,000 filed by Mrs. Agnes Kari Randle and Captain Randle against Colonel Conger.

That such was a possibility was the opinion expressed by Colonel Lincoln S. Kilbourne, inspector general of the eighth corps area, Saturday afternoon when interviewed regarding an Associated Press item from Washington, D. C., which said Secretary of War Weeks had instructed General Helmick to conduct an investigation.

General Helmick at present is out of Washington on a tour of inspection. Colonel Kilbourne said. He recently was at San Francisco and according to pre-arranged schedule is due to reach San Antonio April 28 to make inspection.

It was possible Colonel Kilbourne said that the general might lead the investigation until he could reach here and conduct it in person.

However, Colonel Kilbourne said the order for such investigation if it were determined to be conducted thru the office of the eighth corps area, inspector general, first would come thru the office of the adjutant and Major James S. Mooney, assistant adjutant that no such order had been received up to late in the afternoon.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY IN CHICAGO

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 31.—Chicago's mayoral campaign wound up tonight with the adherents of both candidates predicting victory in Tuesday's election. Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county committee said tonight that Arthur C. Lueder, former postmaster, would win on the Republican ticket by at least 40,000, while supporters of Judge William E. Dever, Democrat, predicted he would be elected by all the way from 10,000 to 175,000 votes.

While each side expected to make a last minute effort to get out votes Monday, the campaign itself ended today. The race this year has been one of the quietest in the city's history. With the withdrawal of Mayor William Hale Thompson, storm center of former campaigns from the race before the primary, and a coalition of Republican support thrown to Lueder, the issues of the campaign have resolved themselves for the most part into political lines.

A number of Chicago's suburbs will also hold municipal elections Tuesday, Sunday closing the movies becoming the main issue in Oak Park.

W. J. BRYAN OPENS DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN

(By The Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., March 31.—Protection of the farmer, just taxation and reconciliation of labor and capital as planks in the Democratic platform would win the 1924 presidential campaign, William Jennings Bryan said tonight in his first address on political questions since the announcement by Attorney General Daugherty that President Harding will be a candidate for reelection.

Mr. Bryan said that the Harding administration had done nothing to solve the problem of labor unrest and that it had not meted out justice to the farmer.

"The farmer does not want to borrow money," he declared. He merely wants to sell his products at a price which will enable him to feed and clothe his family.

Taxation will be a vital question in the 1924 campaign, Mr. Bryan said.

"Every congress must deal with taxation. Harding was elected with a majority of seven million votes and two thirds of the house and senate to back him, but he couldn't enlist their support," he declared. "The rich are trying to saddle their taxes on the poor and the poor are fighting against increased taxation. The Republicans have spread it over the backs of the poor."

REAL ESTATE DEAL RESULTS IN SUIT

A suit to enforce a contract was filed yesterday by W. N. Hairgrove, who is attorney for Elmer Gilworth and A. L. Carter. The defendant in the suit is William H. Kitcher. It is the claim of the complainants that they entered into a contract with Mr. Kitcher for the sale of certain lands in Macopin county for a consideration of $28,000 and that Mr. Kitcher declines to carry out the transaction.

It is maintained by the complainants that any error in the title claimed by Mr. Kitcher is a minor matter and that any such claim is merely for the purpose of avoiding carrying out of the contract.

QUOTE CEMENT BY SACK

The Marquette Cement Mfg. Co. has given notice to contractors and dealers that hereafter all Marquette cement will be quoted, sold and invoiced by the sack instead of by the barrel. For a long time it has been the custom to ship cement in sacks and barrels and mortar have been proportioned and estimated on the sack basis. However, orders for large quantities have been by the barrel, four sacks being equivalent to a barrel.

The manufacturers believe that confusion will be avoided by adopting the sack basis in all quotations.

DOG LICENSES MUST BE PAID IN ADVANCE

W. H. Weatherford, assessor and treasurer, has called attention to the Illinois statute which provides that payment of license fees for dogs must be paid at time of assessment. The law requiring payment in advance of fees ranging from $1 to $3 has been on the statute books for the past four years.

Other taxes are of course assessed one year and payable the next, but this is not true with relation to dogs.

WORK OF CAPT. PEARCE GIVEN RECOGNITION

R. B. Pearce, who was recently appointed postmaster at White Hall, has been the recipient of congratulations from friends in various localities. Some of these quotations have been given in person and others have been received by Mr. Pearce by mail and wire.

In a letter to one of his friends Mr. Pearce recently said that he realizes that the position was given him in recognition of the services of his honored father, the late Capt. E. J. Pearce. The life work of Capt. Pearce was in White Hall and he labored unceasingly for the upbuilding of that community, with little thought of mercenary reward.

Had Captain Pearce lived until April 24 of this year he would have been eighty-three years old and the approach of the anniversary has brought forcibly to the son's mind something of his father's services for the Greene county community, and also for the Republican party.

Going back into political history, the following reference was recently made to the work of Capt. Pearce for his party:

Go back to the first McKinley campaign in his outlying the tariff issue for the Republican national committee as a matter of equal importance with the issue of sound currency. His services were of immense value in shaping the issue of the tariff, the success of which and the retaining of sound money resulted in bringing about an era of prosperity in this country the like of which had never before been experienced up to that time. During the memorable campaign the tariff controversy between Capt. Pearce and T. C. Willson, tariff editor of the New York World, was one of the most illuminating and afforded more campaign material for both sides than was obtained through any source perhaps in that tremendous political battle.

CHARGES AGAINST TONKINSON DISMISSED

In the Journal published March 20, an article appeared stating that H. J. Tonkinson, an operator in the local office of the C. P. & St. L., was charged with embezzling $2,000 belonging to some minor children in Arkansas. It was further stated that Tonkinson was arrested by local police and held for Sheriff Johnson of Forest City, Ark., who later came to Jacksonville and returned to Arkansas with Tonkinson as his prisoner.

Yesterday Mr. Tonkinson requested his position here with the C. P. & St. L. and sent the Journal the following communication with reference to the charges made against him.

Jacksonville Journal, March 31.
"I take this means of giving you the true facts in the case, as your article gave me quite a lot of notoriety to which I am not entitled. It is true that I acted as administrator in an estate left by my wife's father and settled all accounts pertaining thereto as far as was possible. There is a suit pending in court there for some time brought by my wife's sister, who is claiming more property than rightfully belongs to her and through false testimony and the fact that we had moved from there, she secured a judgment in a lower court, but the case has been taken to higher court and is still pending.

The charge against me was brought after she had secured the judgment in lower court. On my return to Arkansas last week and laying all the facts in the case before the Prosecuting Attorney, it was readily seen that there were no grounds for sustaining any charge against me and the matter was dropped. I am ready and have always been ready to settle this matter as soon as ordered to do so by the court. As this is a family matter and concerns no one but ourselves, I will thank you to make the proper correction in your next issue."

Yours truly,
H. J. Tonkinson.

John Brown of Ashland Avenue Tells How It Feels to Live More Than Century

Resident at 906 Ashland avenue, is John Brown, colored, who has been a resident of this community for forty years past. Mr. Brown claims to have reached the good old age of 103 and says that he was born in Pike county, Mo., in January 1820. For more than 60 years he continued to live in Pike county, much of the time in Louisiana.

Talking about pioneer days Mr. Brown said: "My father and some of his brothers came from Kentucky into Missouri when that state was a real wilderness. A log cabin was erected and I remember that as a boy and a young man the country was wild. Game abounded and when we wanted a wild turkey or even a deer all we had to do was to stand in the dooryard with a rifle or gun and wait the chance to shoot, which would not be long."

Just about forty years ago Mr. Brown came to Jacksonville and until recent years much of his time was spent in employment on nearby farms.

Mrs. Brown, according to this aged resident's statement, is 104 years old and it is her proud claim that her sister, Mrs. Morgan, the oldest of twenty-one children, is still a resident of Pike county and recently celebrated her 120th birthday.

Mr. Brown at least has an unusual health record, for he does not remember having been sick a single day in all his life. The Brown family Bible is not at hand in proof of the age record but certainly both Mr. Brown and his wife have lived thru a great many years.

VETERANS OF FAMOUS GOVERNOR'S GUARDS PLANNING MONUMENT

Will be in Memory of Their Dead and Site is Oak Ridge Cemetery—Company Goes Back to Famous Old Zouaves of the Civil War Days—Only Five Are Now Living

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD.—Veterans of that famous company known as the Governor's Guard, who are planning to erect in Oak Ridge cemetery a monument to their dead, are the remnants of what once was the state's smartest military organization.

In the days when membership in a military company was a social distinction no less than a soldierly honor, there was none better, it is said, than the proud and snappy Governor's Guard.

This celebrated company goes back to the famous old Zouaves of Civil War days and can be brought on down thru the military history of Illinois to the present Company C, 5th Infantry, Illinois National Guard. They were the nucleus of the state guard, becoming one of its first units when it was established in 1877.

The proficiency in arms, which made them the envy of every other organization was founded on tactics and training given them by the gallant Major Ellsworth, founder of the Zouaves, protégé of Abraham Lincoln, and the first officer to fall in the Civil War.

Only five of the original company from which was formed the Governor's Guard are now living. The present commander of the Illinois Department American Legion, Charles W. Schick, of Chicago is one. He was a member of the drum corps of the guard. The others are Thomas L. Bishop of Monmouth, B. F. Stoneberger of Chicago, and Ben F. Neher, of Springfield.

In 1866, a number of Springfield youths, the roll of Civil War musketry still ringing in their ears, gathered in a room on the north side of the public square and formed the Springfield Zouaves. Their captain was the late E. S. Johnson, for many years custodian at Lincoln's tomb. After three years as a private organization, they were designated on January 27, 1869, by order of Governor John H. Palmer, as guard to the governor.

This was the nucleus of the now celebrated Governor's Guard which was formed August 4, 1874. The first public appearance of the organized company was at the unveiling of the statue of Abraham Lincoln at Oak Ridge cemetery, October 15, 1874. It is said the company made a dashing appearance with seventy-six men in imposing uniforms, and galloped in the procession with drum corps. The company upon this occasion performed escort duty to President U. S. Grant.

From this time for many years the guard was in demand for parades, drill contests and formal

BABSON COMMENTS ON PACIFIC COAST

General Outlook Good—Gives Warning to California

Mountain Lake, Fla., March 30.

—Roger W. Babson is resting here having just completed his long trip of inspection thruout the different sections of the United States. He leaves here next week for his home in Wellesley Hills, Mass. This morning he issued the following statement regarding the business prospects of the Pacific Coast. He added, however—that he was unfortunately unable to visit the coast on his trip and this statement is based upon statistical data and reports from his correspondents.

"The Pacific northwest," says Mr. Babson, "is looking forward to better business. Prospects are encouraging for lumber, fishing, shipping, and agriculture. Practically all of the large sawmills in Washington and Oregon are now operating, and production is above normal. A number of mills are even operating two or three shifts. Orders for lumber are averaging larger than production in spite of strengthening prices. Many mills have sufficient business on their books to keep them running at capacity for some months. On the whole the lumber outlook is good for sometime. Of course the building boom is largely responsible for this active demand. Later, there may be a let-up, but I look for active residential building thruout the greater part of 1923.

"Salmon canning has a fairly good outlook. Plans have been made for a substantial increase in the pack this year. The employment of more men, and the purchase from ships' chandlers, can making plants, machinery houses, and food and clothing establishments, will continue to contribute towards better business. From an agricultural standpoint, Washington and Oregon are in a better position than most states. Crop diversification is an outstanding factor. Moreover, the crop yield each year is exceptionally heavy. Apples, hops, berries and small fruits all bring wealth to the grower. Under these conditions, the farmer of the Pacific northwest enters the new crop year in a strong position. This year's crops cannot be fully forecast, but wheat came thru the winter in excellent shape and the canneries appear to have contracted for a large amount of berries and small fruit.

"With lumber production at high levels, with more active canneries, and with a year ago in the fruit, sheep, and farming country, and with an increase in shipping trade, the Pacific northwest is headed towards a gratifying increase in business. Uniform and complete prosperity cannot be expected for some time and there will be intermediate reactions. The outlook is relatively good, however, and advertising and selling campaigns in this section should produce generously. The most attractive, but Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and other Washington and Oregon cities also merit attention.

"Regarding California," Mr. Babson says, "the northern part of California has been settling down with the rest of the country. Lumbering, mining, stockraising, wool growing, canning and other lines, have been quite thoroughly liquidated. San Francisco and the bay region have been dull for over a year. For this part of the state a slow but steady improvement is in prospect. Southern California, on the other hand, did not reach the peak of its present cycle until the latter part of 1921, and it will doubtless escape the critical phases of the depression; nevertheless, it may not have completed its period of readjustment.

"Many factors suggest this outlook for Southern California. I see nothing in any of these factors, however, to occasion alarm. The great diversity of crops and industries upon which California depends and the efficient marketing characteristic of the state should tend to prevent any serious depression. I emphasize the probability of further moderate liquidation as I know from my correspondence that many look for uninterrupted expansion. For the long pull, California is unquestionably sound; but during 1923, business may mark time. Southern California should be included in all sales campaigns, but as the years progress both sales and credit departments should proceed carefully.

"In explaining the reason for this," Mr. Babson continued, "if you picture the country as a placid lake and imagine that somebody drops a rock into New York you will get a vivid idea of how an economic movement begins and develops. The ripples of depression and prosperity spread to the north, the west and the south. Take the recent depression, for example. It started in the northeast, with a decline in the stock market and a slowing down of New England factories. Then came the crash in the agricultural west and south. Canada held on for some time after depression had spread to the states. The Pacific coast was among the last areas to be effected. Improvement is going to follow much the same course.

"The northern parts of the Pacific coast district is running true to economic form. There was a distant decline in Washington, Oregon, and Northern California. Moreover, this decline did not develop until some time after the onslaught of the depression in the northeast. All this was entirely typical and easily forecast. In the southern section of California, however, the trend has been greatly modified. Reaction has taken the form of a pause in growth rather than any prolonged downward movement. In Los Angeles, for example, during the boom year of 1919, business nearly doubled. But in 1921 and 1922 it about held its own. It is possible, of course, that some weakness may develop later, but in view of the industrial progress of the locality, such a recession should not be severe.

"I hesitate when in Florida," continued the statistician, "to forecast definitely for California. First, because I am apt to be misquoted by some of the Florida enthusiasts; and secondly, because I love and believe in the Pacific coast. California may some day have a population of 25,000,000, or perhaps more. It has the possibilities of a great empire. On the other hand, it has no monopoly of sunshine and its more rapid growth is due to the fact that Florida has been asleep. However, I say this as a friend of California because I want California to realize that during the next ten years it will have more competition than it has had during the past ten years. Trees do not grow to the skies and this applies to orange trees as well as to every other specie. Little does California realize the tremendous orange plantings in Florida during the past few years. These will come into bearing almost at one time, about 1927. Beginning then, there is bound to be a tremendous struggle for eastern markets between these two states. I want my friends in California to be prepared for the flood when it comes.

"California has thus far been sort of immune from the great business depressions," added Mr. Babson in conclusion. "This is due to the great influx each year of new people with money. People who make money in other states have been coming to California. While business in California would have fallen off, this natural decline was offset by new people and new money coming from other states. Can this always continue? I simply ask the question and urge my good California friends to think about it. In the meantime, let me say that business, taking the country as a whole, is making an exceptionally good showing. The Babson card stand today at 5 per cent above normal compared with 12 per cent below normal a year ago today."

HARVEY'S GREATER MINSTRELS.

More people visited the Harvey Greater Minstrels last season than ever before. The fired policy of Mr. Harvey is to render a dollar's worth of amusement for a dollar.

The value of amusement is measured by the entertainment it gives. Millions of theater patrons have learned Harvey in connection with "Minstrelsy" means quality and quantity. What is easily recognized as the Harvey spirit greets the audience at the first rise of the curtain: one is made to feel designs, enterprise, optimism.

Harvey has made Minstrel history just as Edison made history in the realm of intercommunication, just as Curtis made history in the realm of aviation, so has R. N. Harvey made history in the realm of minstrelsy.

There is always satisfaction and pleasure when you go to see the Harvey Greater Minstrels, the confidence that goes with knowing the years of experience in providing amusements is a positive guarantee of satisfaction behind the performance.

Harvey's Minstrels are interesting because they are honest, they do what they can do better than any other people in the whole world. They dance the way they feel dancing should be done and they sing because they are full of music they will "blow bust" if they don't. The show is pure Afro-American oozing melody, quiverings with dance, bubbling over with fun. The melodies are clean and irresistible it is a picnic and riot of fun. At the Grand theatre next Monday night, April 2.

Lloyd Reid, who spoke to one hundred and fifty merchants and business men of Morris, Ill., Thursday evening, reports that gift campaign there had an enthusiastic start. The merchants signed up for the campaign one hundred percent. Mr. Reid spoke to the men at a banquet at 6 o'clock, at which time the campaign was officially launched by the signing of the members.

At 9 o'clock that evening the entire town turned out in a big parade, to officially open two miles of boulevard and to witness the lighting of this stretch of pavement with new boulevard lights for the first time. Three bands participated in the parade. Mr. Reid rode with the president of the Morris Chamber of Commerce in the line of march.

The two miles of boulevard were built thru the city to connect with a hard road which is expected to be built to the city in the near future.

RADIO CLUB OF HIGH SCHOOL GIVES PARTY

The Radio club of the high school enjoyed a party at the school Friday evening. About thirty members and guests of the club were present. A sham radio program was given in the auditorium, after which the boys tuned in and got some real stuff.

A tube was run from the regulation radio amplifier to the music room, the "phony" set was attached to a loud speaker. The audience heard some victrola music which purported to come from station KSD the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Faculty members were represented as singing grand opera, telling jokes and giving out weather reports. At the close of the program, it was stated that a car belonging to Principal B. F. Shafer had been stolen from Washington boulevard in St. Louis, where it had been parked while the superintendent was chaperoning the faculty members who broadcasted the program.

A feature of the program was a speech by Ed Wackerle on "The Theory of Radio." During the social hour the club members and their guests indulged in an Easter egg hunt. Refreshments were served. A number of members of the faculty attended the party as guests of the club.

PERRY'S MEMORABLE VISIT TO JAPAN IS RECALLED BY YOSHIDA

Acting Consul at Chicago Speaks on Anniversary of Signing of First Japanese Treaty—Says Japan Has Imported Both Material and Mental Goods from the U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO.—Recalling the memorable visit of Commodore Perry of the United States navy, to the Empire of Japan just seventy years ago, and the signing then of the first Japanese treaty, T. Yoshida, acting consul here for Japan, today marked the anniversary by extending greetings to Americans from whom, he says, Japan has since taken not only material goods, "but also much mental goods."

"It is a great honour," Mr. Yoshida said, "to be able to express my opinion on this day made memorable for both you Americans and us Japanese, by Commodore Perry's visit to Japan about seventy years ago."

"The Stars and Stripes which came from that far away western land, thousands of miles away, has awakened the people of the Island Empire in the Far East from their century long dream of isolation."

"Japan, therefore, is as yet a new-born child internationally, although she has a long history that can be traced back almost three thousand years."

"Since that historical day, Japan has found many things to learn from the western countries, and especially from the most progressive country across the thousand miles of blue waves of the Pacific Ocean."

"Japan has been importing from America, along the highway of the Pacific, not only many kinds of material goods, but also much mental goods. Japanese have been studying the Occidental civilization as represented by America and Europe and its hopeful possibility, and they feel that they have discovered a meeting ground where the civilization of the West and the East will unite and develop the truest of friendship."

"There have been, from time immemorial, many thoughtful men and women who have earnestly wished and planned that the world might escape the dreadful visit of the devil that is called war. But such people were regarded as mere visionaries and their plans as mere dreams that could never be realized."

"And yet the world has been advancing steadily, and the peoples have become more and more eager to see peace. The time has ripened and limitation of armaments, which was once thought of as a mere dream, has come into realization among the principal countries in the world, and has rebounded to the benefit of humanity."

"To develop the truest friendship and realize our Utopia, in my opinion, we must be ever advancing basing that friendship on the solid foundation of the principle of 'Justice for All.' By Justice for All, I mean justice for all the peoples in the world. In other words, we must observe that ancient Golden Rule: 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.'"

The Fun Maker

Real Fun for Every One

Your Aunt from India Brings a Box of Laughs

(Play experts from all over North America send in their newest ideas to The Fun Maker. Regular readers of The Fun Maker will learn about all sorts of games and stunts just as soon as they are invented.)

On a rainy afternoon "My Aunt from India" will cause enough laughter to drown out the noise made by the heaviest drops beating on the windowpane.

To play this game every one gets on his knees, forming a circle. The leader starts out by telling how his aunt, who has been living in India, has just come back and brought a whole trunkful of wonderful presents.

Then the first player on the right of the leader asks: "What did your aunt bring you?"

"A beautiful peacock fan to fan myself with," the leader replies, and immediately begins to fan himself. Then every one around the circle repeats, in turn, the words and motions of the leader.

Bring Out Another Gift

When the sentence has passed all around the circle and comes back to the leader, he describes another present in the wonderful trunk. "Yes," he says, "and my aunt brought me a rooster that goes like this." The leader then stretches his neck and crows like a rooster. Around the circle goes this new gift from the aunt, every one still fanning and trying to crow at the same time. Very likely some one will begin to laugh and lose his balance, and any one who does so is put out of the game.

Perhaps the next gift is an ivory hairbrush, and the effort to fan, crow, and brush hair at the same time will be too much for most of the players and they will topple over.

So long as any player remains, the gifts are described. Of course many gifts, such as donkeys that wag their heads up and down should be given, so that the game will not drag out.

(Next week The Fun Maker will describe "Going Through a Tunnel," a game for boys.)

THE PYRAMIDS

In the far away mountains of Africa's land
Rises the river Nile,
Flowing down o'er the desert sand,
Circling the earth like a silver band,
Changing the waste with a fairy wand
To a beautiful green the while.

By the side of the stream great kings have walked,
Menes and Rameses;
Cheops the builder, of lasting fame;
Reared the great pyramid to his name;
Othos and Phiops joined the long train
In amusements such as these.

And grand were the temples the monarchs reared,
Karnak and Luxor too;
Philae by water, and Ammon grand,
Hathor, Medinah, surrounded by sand,
Isis, the dearest in all the land,
And Horus we saw at Edfu.

Countless the structures in ruins lie,
Sad is the tale they tell
Of monarchs, or princes, of days gone by;
Proud of their power and royalty,
Now nearly forgotten they quietly lie
Who wrought so grandly and well.

Gone are the people who once lived here,
Vanished their earthly power;
Only the temples and tombs can tell
The story they painted and carved so well,
Mighty they rose and sadly they fell,
Gone as it were in an hour.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The farm as a source of prospective ministers is rapidly decreasing and is being replaced by the laboring class, according to a survey taken at Barrett Biblical Institute of both former and present students. More than half (52 per cent) of the alumni are sons of farmers, but the present student body only 36 per cent come from the farm.

At the same time, the home of the laborer has become a rapidly increasing influence in directing his sons and daughters into the ministry. The percentage of students from this class has jumped from 16 out of every hundred to 34 per hundred.

Epworth Seminary is experiencing one of the most successful years. All of the campus buildings are in excellent shape and fully qualified to meet the present demands of the school. Lewis Hall, one of the landmarks on the grounds, has seen twenty-nine years of service. It was built thru the efforts of Bishop (then president) Wilson S. Lewis.

"I am not alarmed over our young people, many of whom have fine ambitions and a fine spirit of loyalty," declared Dr. Wallace B. Fleming, president of Baker university speaking at the opening session of the Methodist Episcopal conference held at Topeka, Kan., on March 24.

"Even if they make mistakes sometimes, I am not worried over the young people of the Methodist Episcopal church. There is a splendid spirit permeating the faculty and students at Baker right now," he said. "Of the two hundred cases where Baker graduates have married there has not been a single divorce."

With the successful termination of the $2,000,000 financial development project an extensive building program for Albion college is assured. The fund was over subscribed by nearly $200,000. President John W. Laird has in view the erection of four new buildings within the next five years and the addition of one million dollars to the endowment fund. The first building will be a gymnasium.

"As we come to the end of such a project," said President Laird, commenting on the victory. "We turn a corner in the history of Albion college. In this new era of prosperity for the college, the faculty pledges its loyalty to the highest educational ideals." Cornell college with nine foreign countries in addition to the Philippine Islands, the Panama Canal zone and Porto Rico represented in its student body is one of the most cosmopolitan colleges in the middle west. College graduates, soldiers and sailors, adventurers, sons of foreign political, religious and academic leaders and men who are earning their own way thru college are included in the foreign group. All but three who will become citizens of the United States, are planning to enter the professional and religious field in their home countries.

Five are earning their way thru college despite the handicap of a superficial knowledge of the English language. One of these is Jose Valencia, a young Philippine student who is studying for the bar. He is one of Cornell's crack track men and a letter "C" man. Another is a graduate of Central Turkey college, who escaped from a prison camp two years ago.

JEWETT SIX
PAIGE BUILT

310% Increase In Sales!

IN JANUARY, FEBRUARY AND MARCH, 1923

Three Times as Many People Selected Paiges and Jewetts as in the Same Months of 1922

AND we could sell twice as many if we could make them. For Paige and Jewett sales are governed only by what we can produce. As far ahead as we can see Paige and Jewett will go through 1923 with an increase in business never before witnessed in the industry.

It took the public nearly a year to find out how good the Jewett is. This Paige-designed, Paige-built, moderate size six is the huskiest built car of its size. It has the biggest motor of any car its size—50 horsepower. And so in spite of its sturdy construction it is the most active car you ever tried out in a speed brush—5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds. Try it.

Paige-Timken axles front and rear. Ball-bearing steering spindles. Springs 80% of the wheel base. Paige-type clutch and transmission prevent motor stalling; gear changing is so easy you can drop from high to second at 30 miles an hour. If you want the best car $1065 ever bought now is the time to buy.

Our Ideal Paige—long the Most Beautiful Car in America—is now more beautiful and enduring than ever. Richness you can see and feel—not a piece of imitation leather in the entire car. The body made proof against squeaks and rattles by double strips of patent leather which prevent metal touching metal or wood.

The Paige 6-70 motor with silent timing chain and high-pressure oiling system possesses silence which will endure—power that will not diminish. With rear springs more than five feet long, Paige-Timken axles front and rear, ball-bearing steering spindles, and new clutch and transmission—our Ideal Paige rides and drives as no car ever could before.

Paige is equipped with two extra cord tires, two bumpers, shock absorbers, gasoline gauge on dash, motometer, automatic windshield wiper—everything you could think of. By far the finest car Paige ever produced, and fully equipped it costs only $2450.

A letter recently came to President Ramekamp from a Mr. Laird Archer of New York City, who has recently returned from a trip in the Near East, where he was for a time associated with Mr. E. W. Blatchford, a trustee of the college. Mr.
Archer writes that Mr. Blatchford is doing a very important work in the Near East. He has been made director of the Near East Relief for Palestine, is acting director also of the neighboring work in Syria. "Mr.
Blatchford and his friends," writes
Mr. Archer, "are salvaging something from the ash heap of Asia Minor's civilization. I think that Mr. Blatchford and others like him have been doing a real job with far reaching potentialities."

Special Easter exercises were held at the chapel service of Illinois college last Wednesday morning. This was the last chapel before the spring

Baptist church offered the prayer at the chapel service Monday morning.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

Suzanne Rinehart, violinist, and be heard at that time in the Largo Movement of Bach's Concerto for two 6th owing to the Easter recess.

Much interest is felt in the forth-

under the direction of Marguerite Palmiter Forrest. The program will be devoted to Folk songs of England, Scotland and Belgium, which have been arranged for chorus of women's voices of Deems Taylor to which music lovers are cordially invited.

guest of Mrs. Horsburgh during the latter part of April. A concert, in

ASKS RESPONSE TO PATRIOTIC APPEAL

BLOOMINGTON, March 31. —
Unless men and women of Illinois respond in force to the patriotic appeal of this year's Memorial Day, and throughout the state wear a red poppy for the boys
"gone west," the American Legion of Illinois may possibly be forced to close the Chicago office of the service department.

This announcement was made here by the department commander, Charles W. Schick, in appealing to members of the Legion and Auxiliary and Illinoisans everywhere to buy Legion poppies and wear them on May 29 and 30, thus honoring the memory of veterans whose troubles are over,
and helping to serve the veterans whose troubles are chiefly in getting their government claims and appropriate jobs.

This double tribute already has enlisted every post in Illinois.
Commander Schick said, adding that Mrs. C. J. Clothier of Rockford, department president of the Legion Auxiliary, had reported that the Auxiliary had welcomed the "splendid opportunity to be of real service to the Legion," and would take a very active part in selling poppies.

"All money derived from the sale will be devoted exclusively to service work," Commander Schick announced. "As the 'Poppy Sale' is the only means of raising money
to carry out our relief work, we are making every effort to assure a large sale."

"The service department in Illinois has been responsible for collecting more than two and one-half millions of dollars in claims for former service men and has placed more than 20,000 men in employment."

Diamond Grove Memorial Mausoleum

No more beautiful structure of its kind is built than that which will be erected in Diamond Grove Cemetery, for though the building is solidly constructed of stone, marble, re-inforced concrete and bronze and will withstand the storms of centuries, there is a softness of line that marks it as an architectural masterpiece.

In building and furnishing this beautiful edifice, the deeper feelings of the living are given as much consideration as are provisions for the protection of their sleeping ones. Throughout there is an atmosphere of dignity that befits a home for eternal rest. On Every hand are fittings which give to the living that serenity of mind that comes only with knowledge that naught can disturb or desecrate those entrusted to the mausoleum's lasting guardianship. Though storm and chill wreak their wrath on all that is out of doors, within the sturdy walls of this wonderful home peace, warmth, and quietude always abide. Knowing this, the family can ever feel that they have extended to their sacred dead the security which is due. And, too, the living find solace in the thought that the "last resting place" is indeed all the term implies, and is not a suffocating transitory couch beneath the soil, desolate, leaving naught for the mourner but gloom.

NEW STYLE HAIR CUT COMING IN

War Time Cut of Clippers All Around Is Going Out

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The well honored war time hair cut of "clippers all around" is now in disrepute and barbers the state over are trying to educate their patrons to a standard "medium cut," according to William B. Tipps, Springfield master-barber, vice-president of the Illinois Barber Association.

In best circles the clippers are no longer applied to the temples and are confined solely to a light cut on the neck, Mr. Tipps said.

A few of the "higher-up clippers" still creep in, but we hate to see them leaving our shops, Mr. Tipps confided.

The most improved style in mens hair dress, Mr. Tipps suggests is the modified "shlek" type, clippers lightly on the neck, scissors on the temples and the rest merely trimmed, but positively no clippers above or in front of the ear.

"This is a conservative style and will probably remain a long time," said Mr. Tipps. "It gives a much better appearance than the short hair cut, and it brings the customer back just as often as when style forced him to the close cut."

Even a change in the method of shaving has come in, the master barbers state, and customers are demanding the new sanitary system. With this system, the razor is placed in a glass of electrically boiled water just before it is applied to the face, and individual brushes, combs and shaving cream are employed. The old style mug is absolutely discarded and the general motto for towels is "a clean towel for every customer."

In the face treatment of men, also, a new mode has come in. It is the mud massage or mud pack, which is said to be a modification of the mud pack of the women's beauty parlors. It is supplanting in many places the mechanical or hand massage, according to tonsorial leaders.

The latest styles are to be exemplified at the master barbers' convention in Springfield April 9 and 10.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of the Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double move these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

THE FIRST EASTER

In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it. His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here; for He is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All Hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid; go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall see me.—St. Matthew, XXVIII:1-10.

INCREASE IN CLOVER IS STEP TO SOIL FERTILITY

Sweet Clover Admirably Adapted as Catch Crop—Other Agricultural News.

URBANA.—(By A. P.)—The increase in acreage of biennial sweet clover is one of the important steps in improving Illinois soils, according to the soil fertility division of the University of Illinois. Its fixation of atmospheric nitrogen is large, it has an extensive root system, is admirably adapted as a catch crop and is a vigorous feeder upon the mineral plant nutrients of the soils.

"Under most conditions, biennial sweet clover is superior to the annual type," the department states. "It is particularly fitted to spring plowing but also may be plowed under in the fall. Where spring plowing is done, the time at which clover is turned under will have a considerable effect upon the amount of organic matter obtained. The increase in growth during April is quite large and where turning under can be deferred until later, this extra organic matter will be added to the soil.

"The surplus is brought up the next spring and thus a portion of the nitrogen contained in the tops of the spring crop is of the preceding year's production. It frequently has been observed that fall plowing may be followed by a renewal of growth in the spring which is rather difficult to eradicate. However, by thoroughly discing late in the spring so as to destroy all the above ground growth there should be no great difficulty in most seasons."

The dairyman who has a herd of high producing cows, grows his own leguminous roughages, feeds a cheap but well balanced ration and manages his business efficiently, is turning the handle in the proper direction, says H. A. Ross of the department of dairy husbandry. On the other hand, the dairyman who has a herd of low producing cows, who feeds them timothy hay and corn stalks and then tries to get a big flow of milk by purchasing high priced commercial feeds, is turning the handle in the wrong direction.

"This applies to other types of farming as well as to dairying," according to Prof. Ross. "The individual farmer has no control over market prices but he does have the power to control, within reasonable limits, his individual cost of production. Our successful farmers are those who screw down their costs of production."

The home extension service has been made a part of the department of applied education of the Federation of Women's clubs, in order that a channel of service might be established between the state and county extension service and the Women's clubs.

Dr. Hieronymus has just issued a leaflet for home bureau communities interested in beautifying their rural school grounds. It contains a detailed design for planting in addition to other helpful suggestions.

Girls' Own Your Own Room clubs will be organized in Illinois this year, especially in those counties in which the home adviser feels that particular attention may be given to the work of the clubs. "Own Your Own Room or organization and demonstration," and "Furnishing and caring for your room," are titles of two circulars prepared for members and leaders. Reports indicate some counties are restricting the membership to girls who have completed at least one year of the clothing project.

That the military school held in Saline county had an influence is indicated in the report of the county home agent that thirty women have made or are making their spring hats. "Some of these hats put many of those in millinery windows to shame, both in appearance and price," the agent reports.

The principles of design and their application to the decoration of household textiles, was the subject of six home bureau unit meetings held in La Salle county. The work was conducted by local leaders and excellent results reported.

Saline county women have gone in for the health program offered by the home bureau. A gymnasium class has been organized and meets every Tuesday night. The class is open and free to home bureau members. It is popular with the women, many of whom are joining the bureau for the satisfaction of the gymnasium class.

CANADIAN TRADE WITH U. S. DECREASED IN 1922

OTTAWA, Ont.—Canada's foreign trade for 1922 amounted to $1,647,701,892, or an increase of more than $45,000,000 over 1921 according to the report of the federal department of trade and commerce.

Total imports for the year amounted to $762,339,309, the report shows. Total exports reached $884,362,583. The year closed with a favorable trade balance of $3,221,337.

Great Britain was Canada's best customer during 1922 and the United States was second, according to the report. England purchased Canadian products to the extent of $374,751,894, an increase of $37,475,184 over 1921, while the United States purchased $340,156,247 worth of goods, an increase of about $14,000,000 over 1921.

A surprising feature of the report is the fact that Canada's purchase from the United States during 1922 showed a decline as compared with 1921, amounting to $506,823,760, as against $553,091,000 a falling off of $46,267,240. Canada's purchases from Great Britain showed an increase in value of more than $13,000,000, jumping from $123,149,774 in 1921, to $136,866,283, last year.

TREASURY PRAISED ON HOSPITALIZATION

Officers of Disabled Veterans Compare Results With Those of Veterans' Bureau — 6,500 Beds at $2,000 Each.

(Washington Post.) Praising the work of the treasury department, both in the matter of speed and economy in providing beds for maimed, former service men, Frank J. Irwin, national rehabilitation chairman of the disabled American veterans, last night issued a statement of comment on the recent report of the federal board of hospital consultants. He says:

"The results of the treasury department thru the office of Col. Edward Clifford, assistant secretary, in constructing approximately 6,500 beds out of an appropriation of $13,000,000 in a period of two years will probably cause the veterans' bureau to speed up its work to complete this permanent hospital building program for which it has received a total appropriation of $22,781,000.

Criticism Called Unfounded. "The criticism leveled at the treasury department is mostly unfounded. It built these hospitals in record time, using principally the purchase and hire system. The supervising architect of the treasury department under this plan sends a practical, experienced building contractor to the proposed location of a hospital and he then purchases his supplies and material and hires the labor to construct. There is no long wait for specifications or for letting contracts. This whole construction program of hospitals was considered as an emergency; speed was the watchword.

The recommendations of the White committee are the result of two years study of this whole hospital problem. The disabled American veterans do not wish to laud the work of the treasury department, nor do we wish to criticize the work of the veterans' bureau, but in all fairness to all departments concerned we point out that the treasury department built its hospitals at an average cost of $3,000 per bed.

$4,500 a Bed, Bureau Cost. "The veterans' bureau under the contracts it has already let will do well if its hospital construction cost is less than $4,500 per bed. This latter figure is based upon contracts already let and takes into consideration the appropriation of $5,781,000 just made, which will be added to the original appropriation of $17,000,000 made to the United States veterans' bureau with which to complete the permanent hospital construction program originally commenced by the treasury department on March 4, 1921, with $18,630,000.

"It is well here to note that there has never been one word of criticism leveled at the treasury department in its expenditure of this $18,630,000.

WORLD WAR HOSTS ARE FAILING FAST

Will Soon Know Meaning of the Phrase "The sad thin ranks"—In Two Years Only One-fifth Will Be Capable of Active Service

SPRINGFIELD.—The creaking joint and rickety step is overtaking the great drab host that lately thundered on the Hindenburg line. Like the boys of '61 the lads of '17 and '19 soon will know the meaning of that poignant inscription, "the sad, thin ranks."

For the United States government says that within two short years barely one-fifth of the 3,000,000 boys who stood the "gaff" over there will be able to meet the foe face to face. Six hundred thousand of them, only!

Hobnailed boots that rang against the cobblestoned streets of distant cities will never again tread the long, long path to glory. They soon will pass through the portals of the Nevermore, as far as the heat of the battle is concerned.

This means that the 350,000 Illinois veterans who came back a few years ago, will have dwindled to only 70,000 able to do their duty at the front if the call should come again in 1925. The rest will have passed off the stage as Americas defenders in the front rank. Tomorrow it will be their younger brothers and sons who'll answer the call.

By 1930, only a decade after their discharge in the prime of fighting power, it is estimated one-seventh of the vets will be available for first line duty. By 1945, even the 18-year-old boys who tripped gaily forth to war in 1917, will be so weighed by cares and responsibilities and their ranks so thinned by disease and death that only a few will be left to man the trenches.

Those above 33 in 1918 will be gone by 1930, and those above 28 will have vanished from military reckoning by 1935, according to the federal calculation. By 1940, the boys who were twenty-three when they were able to show a bare 22,000 still ready for duty. And even now the men who were thirty-six, many of whom made up the army of young officers, are getting old and unable to withstand the rigors of army life.

For Boys and Girls

BOY ADVENTURES

Napoleon Bonaparte and His Snow Fort

One January afternoon in 1783, a score of boys were hard at work in the yard of a military school at Brienne, France, building a large snow fort. The general in command was the young Napoleon Bonaparte, then 14 years of age.

He wore a military coat trimmed with red and bright with brass buttons, and a vest of blue faced with white. From time to time he drew lines on the snow with a pointed stick. Once or twice, when he found a boy idling, he spoke to him sharply, but for the most part he kept strictly silent.

Fort Is Finished

The afternoon drew to a close, with the square fort finished. It was by far the finest fortification the boys of the Brienne School had ever built. Its walls were three feet thick, and punctured here and there with loopholes. Water was poured over the top and sides so that the ice might form. Napoleon was at last satisfied. He ordered the boys to quit work and, taking up a book he had thrown on the ground, he began to stroll up and down before the walls reading.

Battle Begins

The following afternoon the battle to take the fort began.

Napoleon was in charge of the fort. The boys divided into two squads, one trying to storm the fortification from the street, the other trying to hold it against them. Young Napoleon was far too clever for his enemies. He was continually sending out a party of skirmishers to attack his opponents in the rear, or in the flanks; or again luring them into direct assault upon the rampart, and then leading his soldiers up and over the icy walls, he would scatter the enemy down the street.

Just before sunset Napoleon put together a rough skyrocket. A pile of icy snowballs was placed in the path of the rocket. A loud explosion followed, and snowballs began to drop from the sky on the boys in the street. There was no doubt now who was the winner. Napoleon led forth his victorious army to receive the flag given by the school to the best fighters.

Napoleon, in later life, followed similar tactics. He was continually surprising his enemies. At twenty years of age he was taking part in real battles, often exhibiting more generalship than the men he served under.

Napoleon Bonaparte is remembered by France as the greatest general the country ever produced.

Laughlin and daughter, Miss Helen, all of Ashland were shopping in Springfield Tuesday.

Miss Helena Betcher of the Jacksonville Women's college is enjoying her Easter vacation here at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Betcher.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN DES MOINES

James W. Graham Passes Away at Home of Son—Funeral and Interment Here.

James W. Graham, a former resident Jacksonville, died at the home of his son, James E. Graham, in Des Moines, Iowa, recently.

Decedent was one of the pioneer residents of Jacksonville, having been born in this city in 1832 and was over 90 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Graham grew to manhood here and was for many years engaged in the soap manufacturing business, his factory being located at the southeast corner of South West and Anna streets. He retired from business thirty-five years ago and since then has been resident in other cities, having made his home in Des Moines in recent years.

He was united in marriage in this city. His wife preceded him in death twenty years ago. Two sons survive, Harry of St. Louis, and James E., of Des Moines, who arrived here yesterday.

The body was brought here for funeral services and interment was taken to the Reynolds mortuary. Funeral services will be held from the Reynolds chapel Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Freight and Tax Reduction.
The speakers, representing the Illinois Agricultural Union, has shown that some progress has been made by that organization in securing tax and freight reduction that effect Morgan county. This statement has been questioned by some. The $6,919.00 in tax reduction is the reduction in state taxes only as a result of the 6 per cent cut in the valuation of farm lands recommended by Gov. Small to the Illinois Tax Commission. Local condition may result in a tax payer paying even more taxes than last year, but this reduction in state taxes is substantially correct. The 10 per cent reduction in freight rates in Morgan county was questioned by one of the prominent residents of Sinclair. An inquiry at the freight office of the C. & A. at Jacksonville reveals the fact that this freight reduction did go into effect July 1, 1922 and was substantially 10 per cent as claimed by the writer.

Revaluation of Land

This is the month the assessors will revalue the land. This valuation will stand for four years, unless it should be changed by a local board of review or the State Tax Commission. In twenty years the land values in this county have been increased 37 per cent in valuation for county and local purposes and 44 per cent for state purposes. A careful study reveals the fact that there hasn't been anything like the increase of town and city lots in this county. Further, for taxation purposes our railroads are valued at less than they were 20 years ago. These are facts that our assessors should bear in mind in revaluing the farm lands of our county. The taxes have already become a burden to the farmers of our county.

Meetings for the Week

There will be a meeting of parties interested in farm bureau work at the Town Hall in Chaplin on Monday evening and one at the Public Library in Waverley on Tuesday evening. This will conclude the organization meetings held by representatives of the I. A. A. Mr. Corbin will hold the report or Round-up meeting at the farm bureau office at 1 o'clock, April 4th.

LINCOLN SERVICE

The satisfaction to be derived from the operation of an automobile is in direct proportion to its quality, the facilities provided for its maintenance and the care which it receives. Only when these elements are well balanced does the purchase of a motor car become a good investment.

Lincoln owners know that Lincoln cars in ordinary usage demand little attention other than the replenishment of gasoline, oil and water. That is because the service requirements of motor cars are in inverse ratio to the quality and character built into them by the manufacturers.

Periodic inspection, proper lubrication and minor adjustments, when necessary, are essential to the proper and prolonged functioning of any piece of machinery. With quality as a prime factor, it is the secret of economical and dependable transportation.

To insure the operation of Lincoln cars as a source of uninterrupted satisfaction and enjoyment, through the medium of adequate and convenient service facilities, it is the purpose of the Ford Motor Company that its entire dealer organization be equipped to render efficient and intelligent service to Lincoln owners.

Thousands of Ford Dealers in the United States are being equipped with specially trained Lincoln men, competent to make minor adjustments and of providing for ordinary service requirements.

Under this arrangement, a Lincoln owner, whether touring a continent or crossing his own city, may with confidence enter a Ford Dealer's place of business and be assured of prompt, courteous and intelligent treatment by an organization with a personal interest in his welfare.

It is not intended, or necessary, that all Ford Dealers be equipped to do major repair work or overhauling on Lincoln cars. Adequate provision is made, however, whereby such work will be done in each territory, when necessary, by dealers who are especially equipped to render high grade service in keeping with the character of the product.

We believe that the Lincoln will run farther and require less mechanical attention than any other car in the world. It is significant and a matter of utmost importance to prospective owners of quality cars that the incomparable, world-wide facilities of the Ford Motor Company should make the ownership of a Lincoln even more desirable than ever before.
